ANTI-NEUTRALITY PLOTS UNCOVERED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The anti-neutrality plots of Austro-German sympathizers are absolutely under control. Government agents now are in possession of all the facts of the nation-wide conspiracy which has threatened to spread devastation and death throughout the country. Every person concerned in the plot—even the man higher up—is under surveillance. Whether all will be arrested is for Attorney General Gregory, Secretary of State Lansing and President Wilson to decide. The facts now are before them. And the officers declare there is no longer any danger extensive mage will be done by the plotters. The exact situation, so far as the Department of Justice and the Secret Service is concerned, is as follows, it was learned today:

First—This government has absolute and complete knowledge of the secret plans of the plotters.

Second—Every person connected with the conspiracy already is known.

Third—The financing of the plot has been revealed almost to the last expenditure of a dollar and the places where the "reserve fund" is hidden are a matter of record.

Fourth—The high agent in complete charge of the work in this country is known, his every movement is watched and every move he makes is made a matter of record. His arrest would be possible at an hour's notice.

The repudiation by the German government of the acts of the conspirators has resulted, the secret service agents admit, in the abandonment of the plan that carried with it the crippling or destruction of five big munition plants; sinking of a dozen ships and crippling of copper mines in upper Michigan and steel plants and factories in Illinois, Pennsylvania and Connecticut. It is also likely that a fund of four million dollars, deposited in three New York banks, will now remain untouched until the end of the war as this money was intended to finance the outrages.

Photographic copies of more than one thousand checks drawn against these funds, which originally exceeded five millions, are in the possession of the department of justice. Much of this cash has been traced from hand to hand until its ultimate destination likewise is a matter of record.

It is understood that the entire plot would have become a matter for diplomatic negotiations if it had not been for the prompt repudiation of the conspirators by the German government. This disavowal followed an intimation to Germany that illegal acts of certain Austrians and Germans in this country were to be punished by criminal prosecutions of every person implicated and that no immunity would be granted to any one, no matter what his station. The arrest of Paul Koenig and his associates in New York and Baron George Wilhelm von Brincken in San Francisco was the first step in the general wind-up. Officials here who know say that the evidence against them is conclusive and when fully known will startle the country.

Books and papers seized following the arrests furnish the "missing link" in the chain of evidence. It is stated that as a result, the government now has complete data on all plots and there is every likelihood that a transcript of the evidence will be sent to Ambassador Gerard at [illegible] to be shown to the foreign office in order that it may become aware of what has been transpiring in this country and just how much the United States government knows. It will be assumed that the German government told the exact truth when it declared that it had no knowledge of the conspiracies, but they were the acts of misguided individuals. But it will also be expected that Germany will direct its agents here to immediately stop financing persons who have been prominent in the neutrality violations

ALLIED TROOPS OFF COAST OF GREECE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Dec. 21.—Information from Athens that strong forces of allied troops have arrived off the Greek coast indicate that soldiers withdrawn from the Dardanelles are being sent into the Balkans.

If, as is believed, a section of the troops transferred from the Suvla and Anzac fronts are being sent into the Balkans, the following possibilities present themselves:

1—The Anglo-French forces at Salonika might be reinforced to withstand a drive from the Austro-German, Bulgarian and Turkish soldiers massed on the Greek frontier.

2—A flanking movement may be under contemplation by the allies by sending troops to Kavala.

Salonika is 230 miles by sea route from that part of the Gallipoli peninsula from which the allied forces were transferred. Kavala is only 120 miles from the peninsula. Eighteen miles north of Kavala is Drama, an important Greek town railway line which runs to the eastern shore of Lake Doiran. The extreme left wing of the German allies' line rests upon the western shore of this lake. On the other hand, the allied forces could strike eastward from Drama into southern Bulgaria, excellent railroad facilities being afforded for such an operation

There are reported to be at least a quarter of a million Bulgarian, Austro-German and Turkish troops massed on the Greek border and many military experts feel certain that a drive will be launched against Salonika.

The Salonika correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphs as follows: Everything points to the belief that, despite Greece's protest, the Austro-Germans, Turks and Bulgarians will cross the Greek frontier directly they are ready. It is reliably reported that the Turks have concentrated two divisions with artillery and cavalry close to the frontier at Nevrokop and Kustendil.

Vienna reports further progress for the Austro-Hungarian forces in Montenegro, which is corroborated by dispatches from Rome, saying that King Nicholas has completed arrangements to leave the country to take refuge in Italy. According to the Austrian war office the German allies are approaching the Plava-Verane-Mojkovac line.

New Stamped Envelopes.

Postmaster Deyo received word this morning that the postoffice department is about to issue stamped envelopes bearing an embossed postage stamp of new design described as follows: The new stamp is printed in red ink and is in the form of a circle about 1 1-16 inches in diameter. In the center is embossed the head of Washington in profile looking to the left. The sides and upper portion of the border carry the words "United States Postage" in white capital letters and within the border beneath the head is the word "cents" with the numeral "2" on each side inclosed in a small white circle.

PROGRESS MADE TOWARD RONDOUT CREEK BRIDGE.

Approach to Sleightsburgh Bridge as it Appears Today.

The removal of the Rourke house, bought by the county several months ago shows that some progress is being made in preparation for the Rondout creek bridge. Owing to slight changes in plans it is possible that the Huhne residence, shown at the right of the picture, may also be purchased. The Wetterhahn house, at the left, has already been bought and will be removed.

HE GATHERED IN KINGSTON'S FINEST

Most of Our Policemen Fell For Mr. Chambers of Brooklyn and Contributed $1 Each to Make Him a Merry Christmas.

Following the operations of one "Gus Berman" in Kingston recently when he organized a branch of the "Fall Guys' Association" with other branches in Newburgh and Poughkeepsie as well as a few other places it was voted that Mr. Berman had earned a niche in the Hall of Fame by reason of his nerve and the ease with which he collected a little Christmas money from a number of prominent uptown men who considered themselves "live ones" by telling them how they could get a new suit for the holidays by paying 75 cents a week. In view, however, of the operations of one "Mr. William Chambers of Brooklyn" it is to be feared that Mr. Berman will have to be relegated to the piker rank, and Mr. Chambers placed in his niche.

All that Mr. Chambers did was to come to Kingston a short time ago and collect $1 each from practically every member of our police force on a fake subscription to the Police Monthly, a new publication.

Mr. Chambers was one of the most plausible fakers that has visited Kingston in a long while and it must be admitted that it takes nerve to "put one across" on the local police force and the ease with which Mr. Chambers done so shows that he deserves high credit for the artistic manner in which he worked. From Kingston he went to Newburgh and Poughkeepsie where he also organized chapters of the Police Branch, Uniform Rank of the Fall Guys' Association.

His method work was similar in practically all of the cities that he visited. He would enter police headquarters carrying with him letters of introduction and genuine instructions. He had a magazine which was attractive to policemen. He had associated with policemen and knew their ways.

He outlined his proposition and showed copies of the magazine and his credentials and the police "fell." He collected photographs of the higher officers and of the baseball team and gave them a plausible talk. He then proceeded to gather up the subscriptions.

The slick Mr. Chambers was exposed, however, in Newburgh, after he had made his getaway. He had the nerve after collecting subscriptions to later call up the police and ask them how they liked the magazine. When told that they had not received the first copies he expressed regret and said he would look into the matter. After several days had elapsed and no magazine Chief Brown of Newburgh telephoned the office of the magazine in Brooklyn and learned that Mr. Chambers was no longer in the employ of the company. He had formerly worked for them but had been dismissed.

Mr. Chambers while in this vicinity did not neglect to visit Walden, Beacon Ossining and Rensselaer. It could not be learned whether Mr. Chambers had stopped off in Ellenville and interviewed Chief of Police Freer and secured his subscription and also a photograph of the famous man eating bloodhounds or not.

May Lose An Eye.

George Bigler, Jr., of Port Ewen, is confined in the Manhattan Hospital in New York city. Mr. Bigler while at work in the Cornell shops last week got a piece of steel in his eye. So deeply imbedded was the metal that he was taken to New York by Dr. Stern where an operation was performed to remove the steel. It is thought that Mr. Bigler may lose the sight of one eye as a result of the accident.

CLEAR STREETS BY CHRISTMAS

If fair weather continues for the rest of the week the street department expect that the work of removing the drifts of snow from the city streets will be finished by Christmas. Since the storm a week ago Monday over three hundred men and about seventy sleighs were put to work by the street superintendent to clear the streets. The storm while it did considerable damage and tied up traffic was the means of furnishing a number of idle men with Christmas money.

Street Superintendent Van Keuren has announced that no ashes will be collected on Saturday, Christmas, in the Eight, Ninth and Thirteenth wards, but they will be taken up on

CHRISTMAS AT INDUSTRIAL HOME

Just because the list of givers and gifts in connection with Thanksgiving Day at the Industrial Home was so very long that, with the Christmas news, the newspapers could not find space to print it all, the friends of the Home—and friends give to friends—must not feel that their gifts were not fully appreciated by the hungry little folks to whom they gave. Just fancy a family of some forty boys and girls, all pretty healthy and hungry and liking good things to eat, (same as all the rest of us), and you will have some idea of what it means to prepare a Thanksgiving dinner for them all. While all the gifts of turkey, chicken, ice cream, and other food given by the people—grown-ups—of the city and county were fully appreciated. The Home people want especially to make mention of the generosity of the Kingston School children. The mind and heart of a child understands the mind and heart of another child through keen imagination and fellow-feeling, and the boys and girls in our public schools who have happy homes of their own, gave gladly and generously to the boys and girls at the Industrial Home, that their Thanksgiving might be as nearly as possible like their own. In this, the public school children were pre-eminently successful and won far more gratitude than they will ever know about. And the name of each donor and gift is registered carefully in the records of the Industrial Home, which are open to public inspection. All of which foregoing is just another way of expressing the thought that "gratitude is a keen appreciation of more favors to come." Christmas is almost here, and those same forty boys and girls at The Industrial Home, are all just as anxiously waiting for the arrival of the good Saint Nicholas as are the boys and girls in other homes. Fortunately, Santa Claus has a soft spot in his heart for the children whose fathers and mothers cannot make Christmas for them all it should be for any child. But when you come to take forty all at one slide down the Christmas chimney, it makes big demands even upon Santa's ample supplies. For that reason, the good people are invited to help once more, this time to give a truly "Merry Christmas," to those who are, like our own, "His" children.

No Meeting Until January 14.

The meeting of the Clinton Chapter, No. 145, Order of the Eastern Star, scheduled for this week, has been postponed to January 14, when the new officers will be installed.

KINGSTON'S FIRST COMMUNITY TREE

Kingston's first Community Christmas Tree at the high school will be illuminated by between 150 and electric lights on Friday and Saturday nights, and Christmas carols will be sung by high school students on the high school grounds on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The contract for lighting the tree was closed Monday with the Kingston Gas & Electric Company. The company will use all the lights necessary for a proper illumination, and the number of bulbs will be over 150 and may reach 200.

The tree selected for the Christmas celebration is one of the large evergreens which stand in front of adapted for illumination and will furnish a magnificent picture. The tree will be lighted at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon and remain lighted all of Christmas eve. The tree will be again lighted on Saturday afternoon and remain lighted Christmas night.

The musical program to be rendered by the high school students will consist entirely of Christmas carols, and the songs will be sung in the early evening so as to enable everyone to attend the exercises and complete their Christmas shopping at a reasonable hour.

Announcement of the Community Christmas Tree has been received with great enthusiasm about town and the plan meets with approval everywhere.

BIG DANCE WEDNESDAY.

Wilbur Feds Baseball Club to Have First Annual Dance.

On Wednesday evening, December 22, the Wilbur Feds baseball club will hold their first annual dance at Washington Hall, with McLean's full orchestra to render music for the occasion. The Feds have many friends who are desirous of showing their appreciation of the good work done by them during the past season and will attend in large numbers to encourage them for another year. According to the advance sale of tickets the hall will be crowded to capacity and it would be advisable to arrive early and enjoy a few dances before the crowd becomes too dense. McLean's orchestra is well known to dance lovers and will render some excellent dance music for this occasion.

$40,000 Fire in Monroe.

Starting in the barber shop run by Tony Cappetta about 3:20 Monday morning, fire completely destroyed two frame buildings and one brick structure in the heart of the business section in Main street, Monroe. The loss will exceed $40,000. Because of the drifted snow it was impossible for the members of the Mombasha Engine Company to get their automobile apparatus to the fire. They used a crab and had four streams of water on the blaze. One of the frame buildings was owned by the Conklin estate and the others were the property of David F. Mack. The authorities are investigating the origin of the fire. This makes the third fire that has started in apartments occupied by the Italian. He figured prominently in a disastrous fire in Middletown about three years ago, it is said. It is the second fire that has occurred in his place in Monroe.

Run Down by Stranger.

This morning while Daniel Tierney of No. 451 Hasbrouck avenue was crossing Prince street an unknown man driving a bay mare hitched to a black cutter ran him down. The man stopped and picked Tierney up and hurried him to Bongartz's drug store on Broadway and then drove away. Tierney's injuries are not considered serious. The stranger is described as being about 35 years old with a full chubby face and wore a cap.

DAY'S WAR NEWS AT A GLANCE

Constantinople—Announced allies withdrew from Suvla and Anzac fronts on Gallipoli peninsula because of terrific attacks launched by Ottoman forces.

FEDERAL LEAGUE HAS SUCCUMBED

(By Frank G. Menke.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Cincinnati, Dec. 21.—Funeral services were conducted in the Hotel Sinton, beginning at noon today, over the remains of the Federal League, which died last week after a brave, but futile, two-year fight against a combination of diseases—high salaries, lack of patronage and the gradual closing up of the financial arteries which had sustained life.

It was hoped by the chief mourners that the services would be completed before night and the body placed in a grave alongside the Brotherhood league which died back in 1890, but the ritual outlined is a long one and it may not be concluded until tomorrow night. It was even possible that actual burial of the body will be delayed for two or three weeks, during which time the body was placed in the vault of readjusting committees. Right Rev. Organized Baseball, preaching the funeral sermon, paid high tribute to the gameness and fighting qualities of the deceased, but chose for the main part of his text the mossy saying:

"I told you so."

The active pall-bearers are: James A. Gilmore, husband of the departed; Harry Sinclair and Charles Weeghman, who were attending physicians and who tried with all the resources at their command to sustain life; Ban Johnson and John K. Tener, presidents of the American and National Leagues, and Garry Herrmann, chairman of the National Baseball Commission.

The honorary pall-bearers include E. G. Barrow, president of the International League, the man who is expected to act as foster-father for some of the club-owning children of the deceased; John H. Farrell, secretary of the National Association of Minor Leagues, and presidents of several of the American and National League clubs.

Throughout the day there was considerable speculation as to just what provision has been made in the last will and testament of the deceased for its surviving club-owning children and its seventy-eight ball playing children. Those who claim to know part of the contents of the will say that it provides for the following:

Permission for the daughter, Miss Chicago Federal, to marry Mr. Chicago Cubs and settle in a National League apartment. Permission for the son, St. Louis Federal, to join in matrimony with Miss St. Louis Brown and occupy a house on American League circuit.

It is said that four other club-owning children—Pittsburgh Federal, Baltimore Federal, Buffalo Federal and Newark Federal—will be allowed to make their homes in future with Mr. International League.

Brooklyn Federal is not provided for in the will, but it is understood that Brooklyn will be taken care of by the National Commission which will pay it a certain sum each year for a 20-year period to reimburse for its loss.

The other child—Kansas City Federal—died a few months ago but some provision will be made for its children by the executors of the estate of Federal League.

The 78 grandchildren of the departed who have legal claims to the estate will be guaranteed their incomes during the life of the contracts made with them by the deceased. Some of the grandchildren who find homes with other clubs which will meet the obligation, but the others who are not wanted by anyone will be paid in full by the executors.

No one seems to know just what will become of Widower Gilmore, but James is cheerful despite his loss.

"The loss is a terrific one for me, but I think I will survive," he said.

Verdict Against Steamboat Company.

Monday in supreme court in Newburgh, Tillie Terwilliger of that city was awarded a verdict of $7,250 against the Central Hudson Steamboat Company for injuries alleged to have been received while she was a passenger on the steamer Homer Ramsdell last July. She claimed she was injured when a large box fell against the chair on which she was sitting on the lower deck while the boat was making a landing in New York city. She said she was hurled from the chair to the deck and injured.

Villa's Officers Surrender.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Gen. Funston telegraphed the war department today that all of General Francisco Villa's officers have surrendered to the Carranza forces in the state of Chihuahua. The American commander made no mention of whether the Villa officers will be granted amnesty.

FORD TO REMAIN UNTIL PEACE COMES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Christiania, Dec. 21.—Undismayed by hostile criticism and illness Henry Ford announced today that he would remain in Europe until peace is declared.

"I intend to endow a permanent foundation at The Hague to work out a national concordat which will make war forever impossible in the future," declared the leader of the pacifists.

"I expect to remain in Europe until this war is brought to an end. I endow my life to that mission."

Three thousand persons were invited to the meeting of the Clergymen's Peace Union this evening and considerable enthusiasm was shown despite the aloof attitude of the newspapers.

Although it is announced that Mr. Ford will not be allowed to hold any meetings in Copenhagen, he is determined to continue the pilgrimage to that city.

Christmas will be spent in Stockholm by the peace pilgrims. Two hundred rooms in the best hotels were reserved for the delegates and other members of the Ford party.

A long speech by Mr. Ford on preparedness for war in the United States was given out.

ASQUITH ASKS FOR 1,000,000 SOLDIERS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Dec. 21.—Premier Asquith in the house of commons today asked for one million more men for the British army.

This would bring the total number of Britons in the field up to 2,250,000.

The demand was in the form of a motion for the passage of the government's bill calling 1,000,000 more men to the colors immediatly.

In making the motion the premier declared that the government aims to get every man of military age who is physically qualified to serve in the field.

"The wasteage of men is enormous," declared Premier Asquith.

"At the present time there are approximately 2,500,000 men in training and on the volunteer lists waiting to be called into service.

The Brick Market.

Only 1,400,000 common brick from the Hudson river plants are available for immediate purchase in the New York market. Good Hudson, in the open list, are being held at $8.50 a thousand, with no quotations on covered barge loads, and Raritans are bringing $7.50 base. The period of closed navigation is almost at hand and the Pennsylvania Railroad has placed its embargo upon cars of connecting railroads carrying front brick for local delivery. Pennsylvania embargo makes Elizabeth, N. J., the eastern unloading point for all New York deliveries of front brick until further notice. If the brick is shipped by way of the Pennsylvania it will be taken to New York and unloaded as usual.

Present indications are that Hudson this week will advance beyond the $8.50 quotations, at which price last week some of the barge loads being held in the wholesale market for distribution throughout the metropolitan district were withdrawn from sale.

It is some years since so high a holding price has been quoted in the local market. The $8.50 quotation is, in fact, $1.25 higher than the price ten days ago and $2.75 higher than the quotation for the same grade of brick in December, 1914.

Fined for Sunday Shaving.

William Murphy, who conducts a barber shop on Water street in Newburgh, was fined $2.50 by Recorder Cantline in that city on Monday for shaving a man on Sunday. Murphy explained that he had shaved the man as a special accomodation as he had come to Newburgh from New York to attend a wedding, and that he had not known he was violating the law.

Discouraging.

The woman who marries a man to reform him must be discouraged to see how much work one small specimen requires when an evangelist can arise and have them hitting the trail by the hundreds.

What a magnificent field of gift things to select from is Gregory & Company's splendid holiday display, covering the entire first floor. It includes small wares, such as Cut Glass, China, Silver and Brass. There are four large tables covering 25 cent goods, two large tables containing 35 cent goods, four large tables containing 50 cent goods, and others containing goods priced at 75 cents, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00. Among the goods thus displayed are splendid lines of Imported China, Hair Receivers, Puff Boxes, Candle Sticks, Match Safes, Toilet Sets, Fancy Baskets, Marmalade Jars, Condensed Milk Holders, Smelling Salt Bottles, Casseroles, Waste Baskets, Crumb Trays, Crumb and Brush Trays, Traveling Sets, Olive Dishes, Salad Dishes, Ice Cream Sets and various other items too numerous to mention.

You are invited to step in and look around. Take your own time. Visit the various tables, but do not wait too late. Remember Gregory & Company's wares are entirely different from those shown at other stores. This firm starts in a year ahead to buy 50 cent and 75 cent goods, and no one else hereabout has exactly the same designs, so that Christmas shoppers are certain to select gift things here not duplicated elsewhere in Kingston.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1442.—A Popular Pleasing Style.—Girls' Suit With Gored Plaited Skirt and Norfolk Blouse, Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths.

As here shown checked gingham in blue and brown tones, was combined with blue chambray. For comfort, style and practical features, this model has much to recommend it. The blouse may be finished with or without the back yoke facing, and the belt may be adjusted at Empire or low waistline. The skirt is a 4 gore model, with plaited fulness. It may be finished with the skirtband or joined to an underwaist. The sleeve is to be made in wrist length, with a band cuff, or finished at elbow length with a turnback cuff. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. It requires 5¾ yards of 44 inch material for a 10 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

CHRISTMAS RUSH AT THE POST OFFICE

Extra Window Opened at Uptown Station to Handle the Huge Parcel Post Business for the Holidays.

The number of Christmas packages being sent by parcel post is so large at the uptown post office station in the Warren building on Fair street that it became necessary this morning to open a separate window for handling parcels. A wooden panel at the further end of the lobby was removed and a temporary desk was established where one clerk was kept busy weighing packages and collecting the amount due for them, while another clerk was kept busy licking and putting on postage stamps. Up to noon the tongue of the latter clerk had not suffered any damage but he complained of thirst.

On Monday there was a steady stream of Christmas shoppers in the uptown station, from which over eighty sacks of parcel post packages were sent to the main post office for shipment. The quantity of parcel post packages shipped today promised to exceed Monday's large quantity. The number of sacks mentioned was in addition to the regular sacks of first class mail, the quantity of which was augmented by many Christmas letters. All day Monday the number of shippers in the uptown station was so large that it was necessary to form a line, which at times extended from the stamp window along the entire length of the lobby to the rear end, and thence along the side of the lobby to the entrance.

The system instituted today of handling parcel post packages at a separate window was of vast benefit to shippers and the postal service. As the result of Monday's rush, anyone desiring to purchase a single postal card or postage stamp was compelled to wait in line, others having packages had them weighed and in many cases insured, and the delay in this way was extremely annoying. Under the system now inaugurated parcel post packages not insured are received at the improvised window at the end of the lobby, leaving the regular stamp and money order windows free for the transaction of the regular business there. Parcel post packages which were insured were received at the stamp window but as their number was small in comparison with the total shipments, there was no appreciable delay to stamp buyers, while the work at the parcel post window was thereby expedited.

The Christmas rush of outgoing packages has not been equalled by an incoming rush, and in all likelihood Kingston Christmas givers will send many more packages than will be received in town. This, however, is entirely in keeping with Christmas spirit, for Kingstonians have long realized the truth of the Biblical injunction that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

"The Princess Pat" Coming Soon

Victor Herbert's operatic triumph, "The Princess Pat," which plays for the one hundredth time at the Cort theater, New York, tomorrow night, will appear at the Kingston opera house at an early date. "The Princess Pat" is one of the latest and most popular comic operas. The book and lyrics are by Henry Blossom, the music by Victor Herbert and the staging by Fred G. Latham. The opera is in three acts and the scene is laid in Long Island. It depicts a woman's efforts to safeguard her husband's affections by arousing his jealousy and the instrument to this end is an elderly German plutocrat. The songs suggest popular themes among the numbers being "Allies," "Make Him Guess," "The Shoes of Husband Number One As Worn by Number Two," and many others whose popularity has become firmly established.

Injured by an Explosion.

Frank Campbell, son of John J. Campbell, the contractor, had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday night when a gas explosion in the hot water heater of his home caused the breaking of the heater, a flying fragment striking young Campbell on the head and inflicting a scalp wound. Luckily the piece did not strike an unprotected spot, or Campbell would be no more. As it was, he was struck on the surface of the skull, his hair forming a protection against the force of the fragment. Campbell proceeded to light the pilot light when a surplus supply of gas ignited, shattering the heater. The young man at the time was in a leaning position. If he had been standing upright, his eyes or temples might have been seriously injured.

KINGSTON, N. Y., DEC. 21, 1915

In commenting upon that portion of the President's address to Congress which discussed national preparedness we advanced the proposition that his personal knowledge of what is needed is no greater than that of hosts of ordinary citizens and that the value of his suggestions can be determined only by the sources of his information, which are concealed. The same idea evidently occurred to the American Defense Society, which has addressed a letter to Secretary of War Garrison, asking him to set aside the order forbidding army officers to discuss for publication the condition of the national defense system. The letter says in part: "We are in favor of extending to the officers of our army the same privilege which is accorded to the officers of the German, Russian, French and other European nations. In fact, the attitude of the leading European nations has been rather to encourage than to discourage discussing military problems, which, of course, are of vital interest to the citizens of any country." The fact that Germany made no objection to the publication of the famous books of General Bernhardi is cited. This is in sharp contrast to the action of Secretary Garrison in publicly rebuking General Wood for permitting Colonel Roosevelt to make a speech at Plattsburgh which was exceedingly tame in comparison with Bernhardi's utterances. The prevailing ignorance of our people regarding the way in which we should be prepared is favorable to politicians, theorists and traitors, whereas the publication of the views of the men who are going to direct our fighting forces, if war comes, would arouse the sensible masses to force Congress to do the right thing.

We haven't heard much of the S. P. U. G. this holiday season, and it may be that the society has disbanded because there is practically no work left for it to do. Several periodicals, beginning with Harper's Magazine, have commented upon the disappearance of the special "Christmas books" which have been for years about the most useless gifts possible to select. People who give books this year, judging from the current advertisements and the displays in windows and on shelves, are selecting volumes which are readable at any season. So it is with other articles. People who receive presents this Christmas will for the most part miss the accustomed agony over their utter uselessness and will be able to feel gratitude toward the giver instead of the feebly suppressed hate of years gone by. The Society for the Prevention of Useless Giving may be dead, but it sleeps in glory.

Mexico is now nominally at peace except in that small section of the country where the Zapatistas still hold out against Carranza. The latter was not elected "First Chief" by the people, and, so far as we can see, has no better title to office than had Huerta. It is highly improbable that he could be elected to the Presidency if the people had a chance to vote, but that does not worry him in the least, since there never was an honest election in Mexico, and no such novelty is in prospect. Judging from his past performances, he will continue to be dictator until such time as his rule becomes so unbearable that a new revolution will put him out. Some account of his methods is given in a letter from the Archbishop of Oaxaca to Cardinal Gibbons. Carranza has issued an edict forbidding the taking up of collections in Catholic churches and the making of confessions, which is a strict religious duty in that church. Senseless interferences with religious liberty are out of date in this era, even in Mexico. It is an even bet whether Carranza or Wilson first retires to private life.

The absurdity of President Wilson's plan to put the United States into the shipping business is exposed in a statement issued—oddly enough—under the authority of Secretary of Commerce Redfield, one of his own cabinet members. It is set forth that during the last six months no less than 187 vessels have been added to American registry. Our shipyards are all running to capacity, and, for the first time in many years, are in some cases building ships for export. On December 1 the American registry covered 26,888 vessels with 8,443,258 tons net. This activity is in some measure due to the scarcity of ships caused by the war, but the latter will not last forever, and capitalists of ordinary prudence would hardly invest very extensively unless they considered the prospect good for making profits in normal times. It is well understood that in order to make such profits the LaFollette seamen's law will have to be repealed or modified, and the President's program of creating a fleet owned in whole or part by the Government will have to be cancelled. Nobody can successfully compete in business with a Government which has no overhead charges to pay out of its receipts and which does not care whether it makes a profit or not. Evidently, our big investors are confident that they will be permitted to continue in the ship business without molestation.

WANETD CLEAN SHIRT.

So Tramp Helped Himself From Officer's Clothes Basket.

"My shirt was dirty and I wanted a clean one to get out of town," said John Lawton, the most fussy hobo that has been arraigned before Recorder Lang this year, when he appeared this morning to answer to the charge of attempting to walk off with one of Special Officer Leehive's new shirts. It seems that Lawton was walking past the home of Mr. Leehive at No. 12 Ora Place when he saw a basket of clothes in the back yard and walking in he started investigating until he found a shirt to fit him and tucking it under his arm started to walk out of the yard when he was overhauled by Mr. Leehive and placed under arrest. Mr. Leehive left the shirt at the house before bringing Lawton down to the city hall. After hearing Lawton's story as to why he stole the shirt Recorder Lang imposed a sentence of ten days in the county jail informing Lawton that the sheriff would give him an opportunity of washing his shirt.

WEST PARK.

The trains were many hours late, and everywhere you gazed you could see men with their shovels trying to the best of their ability to get shoveled out. Business is at a slow point. Bad for Christmas shoppers, but there is one consolation, they have a few days yet before Santa Claus appears.

The Lesson.

The late Horace Hutton used to say that having to take a little trouble would impress a fact on any one's memory so that he would never be able to forget it. In illustration he would tell this story:

"Our waitress, Maggie, could never remember to put salt on the table, and time after time Mrs. Hutton would remind her to do it. One morning it was absent, as usual, and I said, 'Maggie, where is the stepladder?'

"It's in the pantry, sir!"

" 'Please bring it in, Maggie,' I said, kindly.

"Maggie brought it in with a look of wonder on her face.

" 'Put it right beside the table,' I commanded, and when she had done so I added: 'Now, I want you to climb up to the top of it, look all over the table and see if there is any salt there.'

"Maggie never forgot the salt again"—Youth's Companion.

A Story of Bismarck.

Bismarck was a man of iron will. Austria, Denmark, France and the German parliament all had occasions to recognize this quality in the great statesman; so, also, did the landlord of a house in Frankfort, where, as Prussian representative in the diet, Bismarck lived. This landlord was a particularly sulky and tight-fisted man.

One day Bismarck asked that a bell be put in his room, so that he should not be obliged to shout for his servant when he wanted him. The landlord declared curtly that he would go to no such expense; that it was entirely the lodger's affair.

A few days later the inmates of the house were startled by a succession of pistol shots coming from Bismarck's room.

The landlord, imagining all kinds of fearful disaster, rushed to the room from which the shots had come. Trembling with fear, he threw open the door. There, to his astonishment, he beheld Bismarck, quietly reading some papers, with a smoking pistol beside him. Without looking up Bismarck asked quietly:

"What can I do for you?

The quaking landlord managed to stammer:

"What has happened?"

"Nothing," Bismarck replied, in the same even tone. "I was merely calling my servant."

When he returned from a walk that afternoon Bismarck found that a bell had been installed in his room.—Washington Star.

Husband's Sacrifice.

Elihu Root was discussing in New York the recent constitutional convention.

"But there was one group," he said—"happily it saw reason later on—but one group there was which had about as true an idea of self-sacrifice as Smith.

"Smith's wife said to him one evening, anxiously:

" 'I know, John, dear, this high cost of living is terrible, but do you really think we can get along without a servant?'

" 'We'll have to,' Smith answered, firmly, 'unless I get a raise. Why, hang it, if the worst comes to the worst you can do the cooking for yourself and I can get my meals at a restaurant."—New York Tribune.

RAW PORK DANGEROUS.

Disease May Be Contracted by Eating Flesh Not Thoroughly Cooked.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 21.—There is always the possibility that illness may follow the eating of pork that is raw or not thoroughly cooked. The danger is greatest at this season of the year when many people prepare for home consumption various food products that are customarily eaten without cooking. More of these home made products are prepared at hog-killing time on the farm than at any other time.

American people as a rule prefer cooked pork, but there are many who, perhaps unknowingly, consume pork in an uncooked condition, either in the form of raw ham or uncooked sausages. In many localities considerable amounts of these products are made up and consumed at home, or distributed throughout the neighborhood. Large quantities of pork products intended to be eaten raw are also prepared commercially.

Why Raw Pork Causes Illness.

The disease known as trichinosis, which may result from eating raw pork, is caused by certain roundworms, called trichinae. These are microscopic in size and infest the flesh of hogs. The prevalence of trichinae in hogs is indicated by the fact that during nine years, 1898-1906, when the carcases of hogs were inspected microscopically by federal inspectors, of 8,000,000 carcasses so inspected, 1.41 per cent contained living trichinae and 1.16 per cent contained trichinae-like bodies or disintegrating trichinae. In other words and in round numbers, trichinae were present in 1 out of 71 hogs, and if the presence of dead trichinae and trichina-like bodies is included, in 1 out of every 39 hogs.

Unlike many other infectious diseases, the severity of an attack of trichinosis depends upon the number of parasites swallowed. Large quantities of slightly infected pork must be eaten in order to produce appreciable effects. If severe illness follows the eating of a small amount of the meat, the pork must have been heavily infected.

Sources of Infection.

In about 1,200 American cases of trichinosis, the most frequent sources of infection reported were raw sausage, 225 cases; raw ham, 213; raw pork (kind of product not specified), 185. The most serious outbreak of trichinosis in the United States in the number of persons affected was that of November-December, 1911, in California, in which 58 cases, with 1 death, resulted from summer sausage made by a farmer and peddled by him in the neighborhood.

Another outbreak occurred in Wisconsin about a year ago in which 21 cases, resulting in 3 deaths, developed in 5 families. Early in December a hog which had been on the farm of the first family for three years was slaughtered and part of the meat made into sausage. The next day some of the sausage was fried slightly and eaten. Two of the members of this family died. There were eight cases in three other families which procured some of the sausage immediately after it was prepared and ate it raw or imperfectly cooked.

How to Avoid Trichinosis.

To avoid trichinosis, no form of pork in the raw state, including dried or smoked sausages and hams, should be eaten. All pork used as food should be cooked thoroughly. If this is done the value or wholesomeness of the meat for food purposes is not impaired by the fact that the parasites were present in it.

According to specialists of the department, trichinae die when subjected to a temperature of about 140 degrees F. All products containing pork which are prepared to be sold as cooked products in establishments operating under federal meat inspection are required to be cooked sufficiently to insure a temperature high enough to destroy trichinae throughout all portions of the meat. Likewise, in order to protect consumers who are careless or ignorant of the danger of raw pork products of kinds prepared customarily to be eaten without cooking, such as certain kinds of hams and summer sausage, must be manufactured in accordance with methods which, it has been determined, destroy the vitality of any trichinae which may be present in the pork. It has been found by investigations in the bureau of animal industry that if pork is subjected to a temperature not higher than 5 degrees F. for 20 days, the vitality of all trichinae is destroyed. This is one method of safeguarding pork products that are to be eaten without cooking. Other methods followed in establishments operating under federal meat inspection consist in curing and drying the products according to certain rules which the manufacturers are required to follow.

Although products that are specially prepared for eating uncooked and bear the mark of federal inspection, may be used with safety, the custom of eating raw pork is not to be encouraged. In any case it should be remembered that fresh pork, or ordinary cured pork products are not safe as food unless properly cooked. It cannot be determined with certainty by inspection whether pork is free from trichinae, and the federal meat inspection mark does not guarantee the fitness of pork for food if it be eaten raw.

A practical rule for cooking pork is to cook it until it has lost its red color throughout all portions, or if a trace of this color is still present, at least until the fluids of the meat have become more or less jellied.

Didn't Remain Stranded.

Two Margaretville men who, quite awhile ago, were stranded in the city of Kingston and did not have enough money to pay their car fare home, displayed considerable business ability. Going to a drug store they purchased a number of tiny tin boxes and procuring a few cakes of soap they filled the boxes and sold them to housewives in the city, representing the concoction to be corn salve of a superior kind. It is needless to say that they soon disposed of their stock and secured ample money to pay their car fare to Margaretville.—The Utilitarian.

ALBANY DOCTOR
Makes Wonderful Cures
Will be in Kingston
FRIDAY, DEC. 24th

DR. SWINBURNE OF ALBANY.

A Remarkable Cure of Castleton Woman

Mrs. John Vanderwall, of Castleton, N. Y., was an invalid for over two years. Doctors said she had Bright's Disease, disorders and heart trouble. There seemed no hope for her case and she was confined to the bed for over a year. On the 12th of March, 1912, Dr. Swinburne, of Albany, was called to see her and by a careful examination found that the other doctors were mistaken in their diagnosis. Dr. Swinburne assured her she could get well. Today she is enjoying good health and able to look after her house work and social duties.

Amsterdam Fireman Cured of Rheumatism.

Henry Cole, of Steamer 2, Fire Company, of Amsterdam, was so crippled from rheumatism that he had to give up work and could only get around with the aid of crutches. After treating a long time with several doctors without satisfactory results he became much discouraged and thought there was no hope for him. His attention having been called to the wonderful work Dr. Swinburne was doing, he decided to make one more effort to obtain relief. To Mr. Cole's great astonishment he found after taking Dr. Swinburne's treatment one month he had no further use for his crutches and after three months' treatment was entirely cured. He is now at work and enjoys perfect health.

Consumption Cured.

Floyd Moore, of Fultonville, N. Y., had suffered a long time with chronic cough, loss of weight and shortness of breath and the local doctors had failed to give him relief. They claimed he had consumption and could not get well. Hearing of Dr. Swinburne he decided to make a last effort to obtain relief, with the result that after five months' treatment he is entirely cured and able to work every day.

Schenectady Boy Cured of Fits.

A remarkable cure is that of Julius Kuger, son of Mrs. H. Martin, of 706 Vail Place, Schenectady, N. Y. He suffered for a long time from attacks of convulsions, which had become so severe that he often had three or four a day. He had been treated by several of the best local doctors without relief and steadily grew worse. Seeing Dr. Swinburne's announcement that he cured cases considered incurable by other doctors, Mrs. Martin decided to see Dr. Swinburne about her son's case with the result that after one month's treatment the spasms were entirely controlled and after three months' treatment the boy was permanently cured.

Another Remarkable Case in Schenectady.

Miss H. Robertson, of 24 Thompson street, had severe stomach trouble, also diagnosed as ulcers of the stomach by her local doctors, and an operation was advised, but after two months' treatment with Dr. Swinburne she is able to eat all ordinary food without distress, is now feeling fine and has gained 18 pounds in weight.

SUN RISING IN SUNDOWN.

Great Interest Shown in Work of County Farm Bureau.

Manager Hook of the Ulster County Farm Bureau recently held a meeting in Sundown of which he writes in The Spokesman:

On Saturday evening the night, following the Claryville visit, a very successful meeting was held in the church at Sundown by your Manager. Sixty-five persons were present. There were as many women present as men. Keeping and Feeding of Poultry was discussed and then followed the pictures on the common insect pests. The people were much interested in noting the different stages in the life history of many common worms and bugs. They learned that the cabbage leaf worm had as its parents beautiful white butterflies, that the parents of the round headed apple tree borer were brilliant black and white beetles about an inch long, that the San Jose Scale eats with a tongue twice as long as its body, etc.

Three more memberships for the Ulster County Farm Bureau Association were received. These are listed elsewhere in this issue.

A Cornell Reading Course Club, to meet every two weeks for the study of agricultural matters, was inaugurated. This will be engineered and fostered by Mrs. A. W. Dimock until it is thoroughly started. Other communities may well follow the example of Sundown for regular study clubs on agricultural subjects.

Ostrander; Ceres, Mrs. August Elmendorf; Assistant Lady Steward, Mrs. J. F. Durfee.

Lake Katrine Grange met Monday evening, December 6th, and elected the following officers: Master, C. E. Davis; Overseer, David Kieffer; Lecturer, Mary Brink; Steward, Chas. Van Etten; Assistant Steward, James Gaddis; Chaplain, Abram Reil; Treasurer, Franklin Snyder; Secretary, Gertrude Trueman; Gate Keeper, Culver Ten Broeck; Flora, Mary Ten Broeck; Pomona, Annie Snyder; Ceres, Annie Kieffer; Lady Assistant Steward, Edith Legg; Trustee for 3 years, Sam Bernstein.

Benefits Of Lime.

Supervisor J. V. Merrihew of Olive Bridge, reports that he seeded down seven acres of oats, using 2½ bushels of oats to the acre. Two hundred and seventy-five bushels of stone lime were applied to the piece, or nearly 40 bushels, equivalent to 3,200 lbs., per acre. 250 lbs. of fertilizer to the acre was also applied. A yield of 356 bushels, practically 51 bushels to the acre of oats were received. Two quarts of alfalfa seed was mixed with the grass seed at the time the oats were sown. This gave him an excellent stand of clover and alfalfa after the oats were taken off. Mr. Merrihew is thoroughly convinced of the value of using lime not only to secure good stands of clover, alfalfa and other grasses, but also as the means of increasing the yield of oats.—The Spokesman.

Success in Perseverance.

Inventions appear to be a case of "try, try again." No doubt Robert Fulton thought this when he awoke one morning and learned that his first steamboat had gone down as rapidly as a rocket goes up. The machinery proved too heavy. But he began his "try again" process and, at last, when the Clermont traveled from New York at the rate of 150 miles in 32 hours, she was considered a great success, although it is difficult to imagine this in an age noted for rapidity.

MR. SCHOONMAKER'S GIFT TO THE HOME

A practical Christmas gift of $500 to the Industrial Home by John D. Schoonmaker is indicated by resolutions adopted by the board of trustees of the Industrial Home and an order granted by Judge Hasbrouck, which were filed in the county clerk's office this morning.

From the petition made by the board of trustees to the court and the resolutions adopted by the trustees at Monday's meeting, it appears that in 1912 the Industrial Home bought a tract of land from George Hutton and Augusta V. D. Hutton, his wife, for $2,600. A part of this land was found to be unsuited to the uses and purposes of the home, which later in the same year purchased a more suitable tract from Francis A. Waters, as trustee under the will of Mary L. Waters, for the sum of $500.

At the time the transfers of the property were made to the Industrial Home, the home did not have sufficient funds to pay for the property, and John D. Schoonmaker, who was one of the board of trustees, advanced the sum of $1,300 out of his own pocket to pay for the same. At that time it was agreed between the trustees of the home and Mr. Schoonmaker that the trustees should convey to Mr. Schoonmaker part of the property which had been purchased from the Huttons as was unsuited to the uses of the home.

The petition of the trustees shows that Mr. Schoonmaker has not been reimbursed for the $1,200 which he advanced, but he is willing to take a conveyance of the part of the Hutton purchase which the home finds unsuited to its uses, although such property is not worth over the sum of $800.

The petition of the trustees shows further that after making this conveyance, the home will have enough property left to satisfy its uses and purposes, and the trustees at Monday's meeting authorized such conveyance to be made to Mr. Schoonmaker of the $800 Hutton lot in liquidation of his $1,300 loan, subject to the approval of the supreme court.

On the petition presented and resolutions adopted by the trustees, Judge Hasbrouck authorized Francis A. Waters, as secretary of the board of trustees, to convey the lot in question to Mr. Schoonmaker for a consideration of one dollar. The lot is situated on the easterly side of Clifton avenue, and extends 100.7 feet along Clifton avenue and has a depth of 66.67 feet.

Everett Fowler appeared for the board of trustees, whose members are John D. Schoonmaker, J. Graham Rose, F. J. R. Clarke, Francis A. Waters, Reuben Bernard, Wesley Hale and James O. Winston.

Advertising and Price

Who pays the price of advertising is a much discussed question.

Listen to what Jules B. Schloss has to say in Newspaperdom.

"Good advertising creates a passive expense which is overbalanced by the decreased cost of production or selling—and it reduces the price of the commodity to the consumer. It lowers the cost of living.

"Poor advertising remains an active expense, which must be added to the price of the commodity, because it does not proportionately increase the sales—poor advertising increases, instead of decreases, the cost of production and selling! Consequently, it raises the cost of living. When advertising is run in media, to which it is not suited, it is decidedly poor advertising, and it will not bring the necessary results."

And because they produce results at low cost the newspapers are today the most favored of all advertising mediums.

His Ambition.

"While I have been cordially detested during the most of my life, with or without ample justification," stated J. Fuller Gloom, "I intend to at least not be a nuisance after death. To that end I have consistently refrained from making epigrams, manufacturing maxims and uttering sonorous sentences, to be repeated to helpless children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me."—Judge.

Dead Sea Not So Dead.

The name "Dead Sea" nowhere occurs in the Bible, and was not used by writers before the time of Christ. The name was evidently given to the lake on account of the belief that no life existed in it. But some low forms of life are found in the water, and many small animals and birds live near the shores. The great tragedy of Sodom and Gomorrah may also have led to the bestowal of the name.—Christian Herald.

Abracadabra a Fever Cure.

Long before a change of climate came to be advertised as a cure for hay fever, an idea the railroads have been suspected of fostering, a simpler remedy was thought to be the word abracadabra. This magical word was once used as a charm against ague and fevers. Its meaning is disputed. As a charm it was written to form an inverted triangle by dropping the last letter at each successive repetition.—Kansas City Times.

ALL PLEASED WITH HOLIDAY EXCURSION

One Kingston merchant stated that on account of the Ulster & Delaware excursion Monday, his sales were unprecedented in the whole history of the store, and other store keepers were in accord with this statement. Such a large business as Monday's was not expected for any day the remainder of the week in spite of the postponement of trade on account of the blizzard.

More than two thirds of the excursionists hailed from points above Phoenicia. The marketing of these people in Kingston was a great boom for the city, not only on account of the increased sales at present but because of the promise of their buying here in the future. Country people are great patrons of the mail order houses and need only to be shown that Kingston has as good values as these institutions to gain their patronage.

The special rates on the Ulster & Delaware and their good results should open the eyes of the public and show them the wonderful possibilities for business improvement if only there could be co-operation between the citizens and the railroads. The Chamber of Commerce has grasped the idea and should bring it about that there be occasional excursions for the out of town population at different times of the year. In this way the trade that is now going to the mail order houses could be brought to the coffers of our city. What Monday's business would have been if there was also a reduction of rates on the Wallkill Valley and the Ontario & Western is too much food for the imagination to handle safely but a little simple mental reckoning will convince the thinker that these railroads ought to reduce their rates at certain occasions.

The ready response of the rural people to the announcement of lower fares proved that the Ulster & Delaware made money by the proposition. All the remaining transportation companies would do the same because the country people are only too eager for a chance to shop in a city, when given an opportunity to do so at lower cost of transportation.

The committee of the Chamber of Commerce which maneuvered the excursion are worthy of the praise of the whole city for their good work. This committee should be made one of the most important of the commercial body because of the wonderful future there is in store for it to stimulate Kingston's business.

GOLD MEDAL FOR ULSTER CO. APPLES

Also a Few Silver Ones Awarded at the San Francisco Fair to J. A. Hepworth & Son of Milton.

That New York state fruit was awarded first prize at the San Francisco fair is pretty well known, as is also the fact that Ulster county fruit won first prize at the New York state fair. How large a part Ulster county fruit played in winning the prize for the state, at San Francisco, is indicated by the following letter:

San Francisco, Cal.,
December 6, 1915.

Mr. J. A. Hepworth & Son,
Milton, New York.

My Dear Mr. Hepworth:—

It affords me great pleasure to notify you that you have received a gold medal upon the "Jonathan apples' and silver medals upon the "Baldwin apples," "Yellow Newton," "Northern Spy apples," and "Sutton apples," which you sent to help make up the New York state exhibit of fruit at the Panama Pacific International Exposition.

You might be interested to know that our exhibit received grand prize and sixty-two other prizes.

Very truly yours,

(Signature undecipherable.)

As Mr. Hepworth says: "Ulster county got there again and the whole world takes notice at the greatest fair ever held." Ulster county has the goods and only needs a few more producers like Mr. Hepworth to let the world know that fact in order to reap the reward that is due.

Christmas Services.

Extensive preparations are being made at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer for the observance of Christmas. A force of men are at work decorating the church with evergreens and flowers. The celebration will begin on Christmas eve when the Bible school will render an appropriate service, sung by over 200 small children. There will be special anthem music by the choir. One novel feature of the celebration will be the singing of the original German Christmas carols by a quartet stationed in the tower of the church. The echo-organ and chimes will also blend their tones with the happy chorus in singing of the good news. The chimes will peal forth on Christmas morning. A regular church service will be held Christmas morning at 10:30. The music on Sunday morning and evening after Christmas will be of an exceptional character. After the service in the church on Christmas eve the children of the congregation will retire to the school room where a present awaits every child. A short program of song and recitations will be given. The Christmas tree will be lit up. The grand old story told again. Strangers and visitors welcome at all services.

YOU'LL ENJOY IT TOO—this visit will afford you pleasure in more ways than one.

YOU'LL BE ASTOUNDED—even tho you read the recent big two-page Reo announcement; even tho, from a knowledge of Reo reputation, Reo quality and Reo values in the past, your expectations have been keyed up to the highest pitch—still, we say, you'll be astonished at the value you'll see in this magnificent Reo creation at $1,250.

AND SEEING IS ONLY HALF—you cannot appreciate to the full the roominess, the excellence of upholstering, the superiority of the cantilever springs, the general luxuriousness of this car until you have ridden in it; nor the wonderfully simple Reo control until you've driven it yourself.

SO COME—COME EARLY. There'll be a crowd—that's certain. And you know that we must serve first those who come first.

YOU KNOW ALSO, if past history in any guide to the future, that only those who order early can hope to get one of these cars.

COME—SEE—ORDER and then you won't be one of those to blame us because you didn't get your Reo—for those who do order early certainly will get theirs.

WE CAN'T GUARANTEE further than that. For never since the first Reo went into the hands of its glad owner, has it been possible to make enough cars to supply all who wanted Reos.

THIS SEASON IS GOING TO BE WORSE than last—that's certain. Demand already ensures that. So—hurry.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Miss Ella C. Gavis and Martin J. Hunter will be married in St. Colman's Church at East Kingston by the Rev. Francis J. J. Cummings, on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Dr. and Mrs. Spencer L. Dawes of Albany, formerly of Saugerties have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mercy Burgess Dawes to William Lincoln Fanning of New York city and Bridgeport, Conn. No date has been set for the wedding.

A golden wedding was celebrated Monday night at "The Old Stone House" in Vineyard avenue, Highland by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Harcourt with a six o'clock dinner. Only the nearest friends (one hundred first cousins and their families) were entertained. Mrs. Harcourt was Miss Helen Pratt and was born near Highland. Mr. Harcourt was born in Plattekill. There are four children, Mrs. W. G. Hasbrouck and Miss Laura Harcourt of Highland village, Alden, of New York and Clayton of New Rochelle, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Harcourt, parents of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Harcourt celebrated their golden wedding in 1889.

Van Deusen-Van Bramer.

Miss Harriet Edyth Van Bramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Bramer of Catskill, and Ralph Terry Van Deusen were married today in Catskill.

The Coterie.

The postponed meeting of The Coterie was held at the home of Mrs. Terry on Monday afternoon and was particularly interesting. The main topic was, "Women in the Drama," and Miss Thompson had the first paper, her subject being "Drama as a Factor in Social Progress." Attention was called to the fact that today the American theater-goers will not be satisfied with a mere story; they demand a message. For this reason there are crowded houses to witness such sweet human dramas as "The Music Master," and "Way Down East;" the thrilling and inspiring plays like "Secret Service," and "Squaw Man;" excellent comedy, like "Little Minister," clever farces, such as "The Man From Mexico;" and good melodrama as found in "Two Orphans," and Count of Monte Crito." The stage is fast being recognized as an important factor in the moral equation of today in its portrayal of the divine and human love. It exerts a profound moral force for good or evil, and today the public is more and more demanding that it shall be a force, for positive good. One noted clergyman is said to have remarked that he would rather have written one such play as "The Dawn of Tomorrow," than all the sermons he had written and preached, for the influence for good in the former was by far the more potent and far reaching. Every phase of living, industrial, professional, social, etc., is now pictured on the stage, which has been taken out of the realm of mere amusement into that of being a medium for picturing the world of humanity in every phase. The theater at Miss Addams's "Hull House," and the Children's Theater in New York city were mentioned as doing much to mould external character. This very interesting paper was followed by one of equal interest on "Women Famous in Shakespeare's Dramas," given by Miss Deudney. These noted women, all true historical characters, Miss Deudney classified according to force of intellect; affection; imagination and passion. In addition, each such character in each of the more noted plays was briefly but clearly sketched, and the message each woman had to give was noted. Mrs. O'Connor had the last paper for the day, her topic being, "Women in the Drama, Past and Present." The comparison as given by Mrs. O'Connor proved to be most interesting. It was shown that today we have more noted actresses than actors, for the reason that present day dramas make more important the parts for their leading women than men. In the past, practically all the leading roles were given to the men, a condition reversed today, as one of the outcomes of the present feminist movement. The comparison was not merely along abstract lines but included the names of many noted actresses of the older regime and the new. The social hour which followed the papers was remarkably delightful being full of the holiday spirit. The home was decorated throughout, with Christmas decorations, and the tea table was especially pretty with its center piece a lighted Christmas tree, with favors appropriate to the season, for each guest. Following the serving of delicious refreshments, the club adjourned until January 8, 1916, then to meet with Miss Hale.

Eddyville Film Corporation.

The Wark Producing Corporation of Eddyville has filed a certificate of incorporation with the secretary of state at Albany and in the Ulster county clerk's office. The company is organized to deal in motion picture films and its capital stock consists of 1,500 shares having no nominal or par value. It will begin business with $10,000. The incorporators and directors are C. E. Sterret, F. E. Gribbon, G. Sullivan, A. Schmidt, Jr., and A. H. T. Benahaf, all of New York city.

Narcotics in Egypt.

The limited field in Egypt for the sale of manufactured tobacco other than cigarettes would hardly warrant its manufacture there on a large scale. The native smokes cigarettes and tombac. Tombac is a mixture of tobacco and other ingredients, and is smoked in the water pipe. The local Greeks and Italians, of whom there are large colonies, smoke cigarettes and the cheaper grades of cigars. The higher grades of cigars and pipe tobacco are smoked by the better class of Europeans.

Enemy of the Fern.

One of the worst enemies of ferns indoors is the mealy bug. This is a white, woolly insect that clings close to the bottom of the fronds. When there is reason to suspect its presence the plant should be examined every day and all insects removed with a splinter or toothpick. If the infestation is bad, the whole top of the fern can be cut off to within an inch of the ground and then allowed to grow again after all the insects have been exterminated.

FLOATING ICE IN RONDOUT CREEK

The Rondout creek was again frozen over from shore to shore Monday night and the lower creek today was filled with floating ice that had been broken up by navigation. Monday afternoon the tug Rob went up the creek as far as Eddyville, breaking up the ice in the creek which in many places was half a foot in thickness. The ice was of poor quality, which was the reason for breaking it up.

The river at this point is also filled with floating ice but the ferry Transport has not had much difficulty in making her trips as yet. Monday afternoon the tug Rob made one or two trips in the place of the ferry. This was not due to the ice, however, but to the fact that the ferry bridge had got out of order and had to be repaired.

The melting snow has caused the river to rise 5.6 feet above normal at Albany, but this is said not to be unusual for this time of the year, and was caused by the melting snow in the Adirondacks and Mohawk valley.

Rivermen were of the opinion that the trip of the Trojan, of the Hudson Navigation Company Monday night was the end of navigation on the river. The Trojan it was said would tie up for the winter at Athens. Officials of the company were optimistic, saying they would run their boats as long as weather permits.

All lines except the Hudson Navigation Company and the Murray line tied up at their customary winter quarters more than a week ago. The Greenport and Frank Jones, of the Capital City Line, and the Berkshire, of the People's Line, are now in the Albany basin.

The Central Hudson Steamboat Company has but one boat running between Rondout and New York.

Rival Claimants For Insurance.

Harry W. Eckert and another as administrators of William H. Eckert, deceased, some time ago brought an action against the Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company on an insurance policy for $1,000 on the life of their father, William H. Eckert, of Saugerties. The First National Bank of Saugerties filed a notice that it claimed the ownership of the policy. The Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company retained Brinnier & Canfield as their attorneys in the matter and they were always ready and willing to pay the policy to whoever should be entitled to it. An application was made to the supreme court by Brinnier & Canfield and Monday an order was granted permitting the insurance company to pay the money into court, leaving the matter to be fought out between the Eckerts and the First National Bank of Saugerties.

Charges Against School Principal.

Principal Chester A. Moody of the William W. Smith grade school in Poughkeepsie was on Friday placed on trial before the board of education of that city charged with cruel and inhuman treatment of children under his care. The complaint was brought by Albert C. Klebes, father of one of the pupils. From the testimony it appeared that Wallace Klebes, 11 years old, had taken a quantity of burrs and several grasshoppers into the school. When sent to the principal's office by the teacher, Mr. Moody took the offender in hand and jammed a large quantity of the burrs down young Klebes's back and rubbed them around until blood was drawn. After hearing all of the evidence the board reserved its decision.

"KIDNEY CURES" SEIZED.

Preparations Containing High Percentage of Alcohol Worthless and Harmful.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, D. C. Dec. 21.—Action against several so-called "kidney cures" has recently been taken under the Food and Drugs Act by the United States Department of Agriculture. In one case the shippers of a preparation labeled as "A Sure Cure for Bladder and Kidney Trouble" were prosecuted on the charge of falsely and fraudulently misbranding the product. They pleaded guilty and were fined $25 and costs by the court. This particular kidney "cure" was found to contain over 41 per cent of alcohol. It was labeled "Old Jim Fields Phosphate Dill and Gin. Mankind's Greatest Friend. A Sure Cure For Bladder and Kidney Trouble. It is also a Great Aid in Case of Urinary Trouble. Allenberg & Meister Sole Agents, Memphis, Tenn." An analysis of the product showed that it contained no material amount of either dill or phosphate.

In another case 48 bottles of "Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound," prepared by the Stuart Manufacturing Company, Atlanta, Georgia, were seized. The court issued a decree of condemnation, forfeiture and destruction on the ground that the claims upon the label were misleading, false, and fraudulent. On this label the manufacturers recommend their product as a remedy for a great variety of kidney and bladder diseases and stated that the medicine contained 16 per cent of alcohol.

According to the medical expert of the department, alcohol is a kidney irritant and is dangerous in many cases of kidney disease. For this reason many physicians advise their patients who suffer from any kind of kidney or bladder trouble to abstain from the use of alcohol even in moderate quantities. Some manufacturers of kidney medicine which contain considerable quantities of alcohol also advise their customers to abstain from all alcoholic drinks, showing in this way that they know the harmfulness of alcohol in kidney diseases even though they use it in their own preparations. It is the opinion of the medical experts of the department that such so-called "kidney remedies" as those recently seized are not only worthless but actually harmful, because of the amount of alcohol which they contain.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Dec. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Berriann and son, Earl, of Ridgefield Park, N. J., and John Yonkers of Rosendale were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Cutler on Broadway Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Ashley and daughter of Kingston spent Sunday with Mrs. G. P. Griffin on Broadway.

Mrs. Crane of Sleighsburgh was the guest of friends in Kingston on Monday.

Jeff Feeney, who has been employed in New York city for some time, has returned to his home on Minturn street.

Automobiles are again seen in our village. The roads have been so bad it was hardly safe traveling.

In the first act of the Christmas cantata to be given in Pythian Hall on Christmas Eve by the members of the Reformed Sunday school the scene is laid in the Port Ewen Railroad station, where delegates from nearly all of the principal foreign countries, including China and Oriental India, are congregated on the way to Santa Claus Land, the United States being represented by the Goddess of Liberty, an American Indian and a southern mammie, with seven little picaninnies. No one seems to know the way they are to take and the questions they hurl at a colored porter who happens in at the time are ludicrous and very amusing. At last "Uncle Sam" comes in and being made acquainted with their dilemma, offers to take them all in his big Union sleigh. They accept his invitation and are off singing the sleigh ride song with much glee.

The second scene is in an ice grotto at Santa Claus Land, where the convention is held. Admission: Adults, 15c cents; children under 12 years, 10 cents. A souvenir will be presented to each person buying a ticket.

Anyone desiring to contribute money, toys, clothing, fruit, vegetables of any other article to the Industrial Home, through the Reformed Sunday Schools Christmas Donation, may leave same at the home of the superintendent before 12 o'clock on Thursday, December 23.

To Clean Tapestries.

Pour boiling water over a handful or two of bran. Let it stand until tepid and then plunge the tapestries into it. Use no soap and do not rub, but just shake the goods up and down in the liquid. Wring them out, rinse well in tepid water and hang out in the wind. When dry, shake them well to remove the particles of bran.

By La Raconteuse.

Quaint basque effects are featured in many very attractive dance gowns, especially where the skirt flares towards the bottom, or has bouffant draperies at the hip. They are particularly attractive on the woman who has not too plump a figure. One very dainty and pretty model was featured in rose faille classique with rich self toned hand embroidery. The skirt flared decidedly at the bottom and in places was boned to make it stand out. Silk net was cleverly featured in the bodice and effected wing sleeves that were very pretty.

Peculiar Mexican Tree.

In Mexico there grows a tree called the "tree of little hands." It is thus called owing to the fact that its five peculiarly curved branches look like the fingers of a child.

LITTLE TALKS WITH WANT AD READERS

All last summer the newspapers were filled with the havoc wrought by submarines in the great European war, and these little craft became, indeed, the terror of the seas, sinking passenger boats and merchantmen with alarming consistency.

Finally, the British admiralty discovered a means whereby these underwater destroyers were themselves destroyed, and so this arch enemy of commerce was annihilated.

The way the submarines were destroyed was this:

A large fleet of high-powered motor boats, equipped with guns, was sent out into areas of the sea where the submarines were operating, or expected to operate. Then these motorboats let down huge nets to which buoys were attached. When the submarine came along it was entrapped in the net and the buoy disappeared, telling the motor boat fleet they had caught their prey.

The submarine soon found that, in order to disentangle itself, it would have to come to the surface, and as soon as it appeared it was either captured or sunk by the speed boats.

Now The Freeman Want Columns are like the submarine net which is let down, or rather spread all over the city, or community, by the fleet of Want Ad speed boats, each armed with high-powered efficiency guns.

When opportunity comes along stealthily, as it always does, and tries to slip by, this great net of The Freeman Want Columns soon entraps it and it is obliged to show itself and then The Freeman Want Ad quickly makes it a prisoner and carries it off to the prize court, where it is awarded to the one who inserted the Want Ad.

The man and woman in business today simply cannot get along with old fashioned methods, or opportunity will surely slip by them unnoticed. Modern business warfare has been so revolutionized that it requires modern methods to cope with it, and, therefore, The Freeman Want Ad net is an essential to successful business.

Turn to The Freeman Want Ads today and see for yourself how many people are realizing this truth and resorting to The Freeman Want Ads for all sorts of purposes.

You will then discover that you cannot get along without reading The Freeman Want Ads daily and using them often.

EXAMINATION FOR SENATE HOUSE JOB

Principal Moulton of the high school has been notified by the State Civil Service Commission that an examination for the position of custodian of the old Senate House, open for women only, will be held in this city on January 22. The position pays $800 a year. It is expected that a custodian will be appointed from the eligible list soon after the examination, and that the Senate House, which is now closed, will be reopened. After the death of the late Benjamin M. Brink, who was custodian at the time of his death, the Senate House was in charge of Irwin P. Winne, who had been in temporary charge during Mr. Brink's illness and who received an appointment as temporary custodian for a month. Mr. Winne remained in charge and kept the house after the expiration of his temporary appointment until notified by the state authorities that the building should be closed. The house has been closed since November 18th.

Tragic Tale was Imaginary.

Declaring she heard that her husband had tried to end his life, Mrs. Patrick J. O'Brien, wife of a North Water street cafe proprietor in Newburgh, went to the police in that city on Sunday and told a story of how her husband had attempted to hang himself in the back yard, but had been found by a man who had cut the rope by which he was suspended from a tree. Monday when her husband was arraigned before Recorder Cantline his wife acknowledged that the suicide story she had told was fiction. She said, however, that her husband had been worrying because of poor business and she feared he would try to end his life. Believing in the motte "safety first" she had decided to have him arrested and locked up. After talking with O'Brien the recorder discharged him. O'Brien is going to Hoboken to get a job.

Wilson's Wedding Announcement.

President Wilson's wedding announcements are in very simple and unostentatious form. An announcement of his wedding to Mrs. Galt was received Monday by the Rev. Dr. Leeper, pastor of the First Dutch Church, who was one of the president's classmates at college. The announcement reads:

Mr. Woodrow Wilson
and
Mrs. Norman Galt
nee Edith Bolling announce their marriage
on Saturday the eighteenth of December nineteen hundred and fifteen,
Washington, D. C.

Newburgh Mayor-elect Here.

Mayor-elect J. D. Wilson of Newburgh was in Kingston Monday and discussed the local municipal system with Mayor Canfield. Mr. Wilson is the first mayor of Newburgh elected under the new city form of government, and on account of his former service as the Hilly City's leader is well qualified for the position. Six years he occupied the office of mayor, for seven years he has been assessor, and he has also served on the board of education for seven years, being president the last two. He also visited City Clerk Cummings and admired the architecture of our city hall.

MOVING AN AUSTRIAN MOUNTAIN BATTERY TO A NEW POSITION.

This picture shows the difficulties under which the Austrian and Italian armies are operating in the mountainous country at the front. In order to remove this battery to a new position, these Austrians have been compelled to pack much of the heavy machinery of their guns on their backs. In the foreground is a soldier carrying the gun mounting, aided by a comrade.

A Little Chat On Attracting Attention

NO MATTER what business you're in, we'll venture you're not always able to turn from one task to another on a second's notice at any hour of the day or night. Yet this is exactly what the telephone operator is asked to do, and does so many times a day. Even in her busiest hours her cheery, "Number, please?" is never delayed more than a few seconds.

Since the only means you have of attracting "Central's" attention is by lifting the receiver hook, it is well that you know just how this signal should be operated.

The release of the receiver hook lights a tiny electric lamp at the end of your line in front of her, telling her she's wanted. When you want to recall the operator, don't "jiggle" the hook. If you move the hook up and down too rapidly, the delicate signalling mechanism does not operate and "Central" will not know she is wanted. Flash slowly. The operator will then see your signal and connect with your line the moment she is able.

In our next chat we are going to tell you something you may not know about telephone etiquette.

KINGSTONIAN BOILERS

Makes a Short Coal Bill

The more you can induce the hot gases and smoke to travel around inside a boiler before they go scooting up the chimney, the more heat you get in your radiators and the less you heat outdoors.

The Kingstonian Boiler has a three times back and forth travel. It's the long travel that makes the short coal bill.

If it saves coal, it saves money. If it saves money, then you want to know all there is to know about it. Drop in and we'll gladly show you.

STORM ADVENTURES AT METTACAHONTS

Eventful Rides of Some of the People Caught Out in the Storm—No Mail Delivered Until Thursday.

Mettacahonts, Dec. 21.—Miss Hazel Baker, who has spent the fall at Briarcliff Manor in Mrs. Dow's School, reached home on Thursday morning. Miss Baker reached Accord on Wednesday night, but owing to impassable roads up this way, the letter telling she was on her way, peacefully lay in the Accord post office and so she caught a ride up with Roswell Osterhoudt of this place. However, when they had nearly reached Jesse Osterhoudt's the horses were unable to proceed any further and Miss Baker walked as far as Osterhoudt's, where she remained until Thursday morning, when Mr. Baker came after her and she continued her way onward. She plans on nearly a two weeks' vacation spent at home and visiting friends.

Owing to impassable roads no mail was delivered until Thursday morning, when our mail carrier, Mr. Gazlay, was able to get through some of the roads. Some of the crossroads, however, were not well opened yet so he kept to the more frequented highways, using a team instead of the one horse he usually drives when on the route.

On Monday Mrs. Charles B. Osterhoudt visited the county seat in search of Christmas presents. She came out of town on the 2:34 train, and after a hurried trip to the dressmaker's in town Mr. and Mrs. Osterhoudt and John and Demark started homeward with their car. Above Edgar Van Vliet's the car refused to move any further, so Mrs. Osterhoudt and her bundles were transferred to the wagon of Mr. Rubenstein, who was passing on his way home from Kerhonkson. The men, leaving the car, started to walk home. Above Jesse Osterhoudt's Mr. Rubenstein's horse became completely exhausted and Mrs. Osterhoudt and her bundles were gotten to Jesse Osterhoudt's. Mr. Rubenstein and the rest of the party were taken to Mr. Bedesky's, where they spent the night. Mrs. Osterhoudt remained as the guest of Mrs. Jesse Osterhoudt until Wednesday morning when she enjoyed a sleighride to her home.

Miss Lillian Osterhoudt was entertained over Monday and Tuesday nights at John Van Demark's, as owing to the snow storm she was unable to reach home.

Oscar Mackey and Edgar Mackey were busily engaged on Thursday shoveling the snow off the house of Reuben Mackey. On Friday Mr. Mackey and Ralph Emory were employed by Rosswell Osterhoudt shoveling snow.

On account of the heavy load of snow resting on it, the barn of Max Rubenstein caved in on Monday night. This is a serious affair as hay and other fodder to last through the winter were stored in the barn and will now have to be removed to a more waterproof place.

On Monday after school Ben Burger and Ralph Emory carried two of the small school children to their homes through the blinding snow about a mile distant. They were nearly exhausted when they reached their homes.

Charlie Bell and Virgil Wood enjoyed a sleighride to Accord during the week.

Jerome Enderly, John Enderly and Lincoln Dunn were among the Whitfield people who were in town during the week.

Miss Ray Markle was entertained for supper on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hendrickson.

On Thursday morning with the aid of a number of men and Jesse Osterhoudt's team, Charles B. Osterhoudt's car was removed from where it stalled on Monday evening to the buildings of Friend Wilklow at Millhook.

After a two weeks' vacation in New York, in which time he was married, the Jewish carpenter has returned to finish work on the Davis place.

Eugene Baker is reported to be quite seriously ill. Dr. Pearl is in attendance.

Richard Warren from Millhook and a bevy of men were employed opening roads on Wednesday, having been appointed by Sanford Cross.

Jesse Enderly of Lake Mohonk visited at this place over Saturday and Sunday.

SPRINGTOWN.

Springtown, Dec. 21.—The children of this place are rehearsing for a Christmas play to be given in the chapel in the near future.

Mrs. Lewis Canfield spent Tuesday last with her daughter in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Sheldon Relyea of Brooklyn has been spending a few days at the home of Mrs. J. H. Relyea.

Mr. and Mrs. G. K. MacMurdy have returned home after spending some time with their daughter in Yonkers.

George Atkins met with the painful accident of having one of his fingers of his right and crushed in the stone crusher one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Minard spent Sunday in New Paltz.

Mrs. Douglass Stewart of New York city is spending some time with her parents in this place.

At a meeting held last Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected for the Sunday school for the coming year: Superintendent, Mrs. Lewis Canfield; assistant superintendent, Mrs. Alice Crispell; secretary and librarian, Cornelius Slater, treasurer, Edwin J. LeFever; teachers, Miss Eva MacMurdy, Mrs. Mary LeFever, Mrs. J. H. Relyea, Mrs. Garret Smith, Mrs. Alice Crispell.

Venerable Immigrant.

John Young, from whom many western Massachusetts families are descended, was probably the oldest immigrant ever to arrive in this country. He was born on the island of Burt, near Londonderry, Ireland, and landed in Boston, age ninety-five, in 1718. Mr. Young lived to be one hundred and seven.

WINS CONFIDENCE ON MERIT ALONE

G. E. Bowers, D. C., "Makes Good" in Kingston—Living Testimonials of the Efficacy of Chiropractic—Treatment Without Medicine.

(By The Freeman's Special Xmas Writer.)

There is no way of making lasting friends like "making good." Dr. G. E. Bowers, specialist in Chiropractic and physiological therapeutics, 44 Main street, has "made good" and his success and constantly increasing practice well exemplifies that fact. His friends—many cured and satisfied patients are his living, moving and willing testimonials. Superior ability, based on modern chiropractic methods, are the real reasons for Dr. Bowers's popularity and success. He has earned the confidence of his patients and holds it on merit alone.

G. E. BOWERS, D. C.

Dr. Bowers is the oldest chiropractic specialist in Kingston. He was born in Cannonville, N. Y., September 3, 1875, and educated at Union College, Schenectady. He is also a graduate of the National School Chiropractic of Chicago. Today he is reaping the benefit of his years of labor and experience in this particular field of practice.

For the information of those who do not know what Chiropractic means, it might be stated that it is a scientific method of adjusting the cause of "disease" without drugs or instruments, based on correct knowledge of anatomy, especially the nervous system. The Chiropractic idea is that the cause of disease is in the person afflicted, and the adjustment in overcoming that cause. The function of every organ in the body is controlled by mental impulses from the brain, which it transmits over the nerves. Any impingement of these nerves interfering with the transmission of mental impulses results in an abnormal function of disease. This interference is produced by subluxated vertebrae pressing upon the nerves as they pass out from the spinal cord. The trained adjuster locates the obstruction or interference, and by means of adjusting the subluxated vertebrae overcomes the cause, and normal condition or health is the result.

The Popular Gift-Books.

Books for Xmas gift-giving are more popular than ever and they will surely please if selected from William O'Reilly's splendid lines at 530 Broadway. Here are copyrighted fiction books that formerly sold at $1.50 for 50c. Included among the titles are "Laddie," a true blue story by Gene Stratton Porter; "Once to Every Man," by Larry Evans; "A Romance of Billy-Goat Hill," by Alice Hegan Price; "Bobbie, General Manager," by Alice Higgins Prouty; "Daddy Long Legs," by Jean Webster; and plenty of others. Among the latest fiction stories are "Pollyanna Grows Up," "Michael O'Halloran," by Gene Stratton Porter; "Anne of Avonlea," by L. M. Montgomery; "Anne of the Island," also by Montgomery; "K," by Mary Roberts Rhinehart, and "Contrary Mary," by Temple Bailey. All of these books are attractively bound and the recipient of them will be enabled to spend many a cold winter's night pleasantly perusing the pages of absorbing interest.—Advertisement.

Rondout Presbyterian Church Notes.

The following new members were welcomed at the communion service on December 12: Mrs. Sarah Lucas, Martin Evan Dixon, Leona DuBois Dixon, Mrs. Thomas Finley, Clifford Finley and Miss Florence Rotonde.

Next Sunday morning the Bible school will unite with the congregation for a social Christmas service in the church.

Next Sunday evening Dr. Ellis will give a balopticon sermon on "Memories of Bethlehem," illustrated by over fifty views.

Sunday, January 2, Dr. Ellis will preach the first of a series of sermons suggested by the answers to the questions he sent to a number of prominent men of this city. The subject will be "What Men of Kingston Think of Jesus."

The Christmas entertainment of the Bible school will be held in the chapel on Monday evening.

Question of Fire Protection

A hearing was held this morning before Recorder Lang regarding a complaint made by Inspector Kelly of the industrial department at Albany that the Herbert Brush Company's plant on Thomas street was not properly equipped for fire protection. Inspector Kelly claimed that the inside stairway in the plant was not fireproof and that the fire escape was on the same side of the building as the stairway, when it should be on the opposite side. Amos Van Etten appeared for the Herberts and stated that the company will file plans either for the improvement of the present inside stairway or changing the location, and a further hearing in the matter was adjourned until January 21.

Overcoming Insomnia.

Sometimes repeating rhymes and jingles, taking full, deep breaths between words or lines, will hasten sleep; or lying in a certain position may work in other cases. One man can always sleep if he lies on his left side and reads for a few minutes. Many people try the reading plan, but reading in bed is not hygienic and it is better to form some other go-to-sleep habit.—Good Health.

Europe's Oldest Journal.

Les Petites Affiches, commenced in 1631 and "still running," can claim to be the oldest newspaper not only in France, but in Europe. Next to it in seniority comes the Frankfurter Journal, which began its career in 1615 and, like Les Petites Affiches, still survives. Third place belonged to the Nieuwe Tydinghen of Antwerp, born in 1616. England's first real newspaper was the Weekly News, launched by one Nathaniel Butter in 1622. It attained a considerable circulation, but perished long since. The oldest surviving English journal is the London Gazette, which first appeared in 1665.—London Chronicle.

PERIL OF FEAR.

Fear causes more disease than do microbes, more deaths than famine, more failures than panics. It costs more than war, is always a failure and is never necessary, said a medical man. Fear weakens the heart's action, induces congestion, invites indigestion, produces poison through decomposing foods and is thus the mother of autopoisoning, which either directly causes or greatly aids in the production of quite 90 per cent of all our diseases.

And the only better gift than a good record would of course be more good records. Nothing could bring more enjoyment to the entire family throughout the year, yet the cost is little indeed in proportion to the pleasure.

And remember that no gift would be better liked, either, by friends who own Grafonolas or "talking-machines." The Columbia Record Catalog and the special Christmas supplement will solve most of your "present problems."

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

DECEMBER 21.

We now enter into the horoscope of those governed by the planets Saturn and Mars.

This covers all birthdates from December 21 until January 18. The Zodiacal sign of these birthdates is Capricorn, represented by the goat.

It is the negative pole of the earth triune and corresponds on the Zodiac to the knees of the Grand Man.

It has two birthstones, the onyx and the moonstone.

It governs mostly the professions and positions having to do with management of money affairs.

Being a feminine sign the women of these birthdates have stronger natures than the men, but both men and women are extremists, contradictory in nature and go from one interest to another with amazing rapidity.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Dec. 21.—Trading was quiet in the stock market this morning and price changes were without importance. Most of the business was in hundred-share lots and represented chiefly efforts of room traders to test the market and furnish an indication of the extent of the demand for supply. American Smelting attracted attention, opening ⅞ higher at 102⅞, but on the next few sales it reacted to 102¼. Changes in other stocks generally were in the shape of fractional losses. Steel common, Anaconda and a few other of the standard issues were sold at slight concessions. American Tobacco was again under pressure and without support, opening four points lower at 196, a new low record since 1910. Willys-Overland common yielded 4½ points to 238½ on the opening transaction. General Electric was exceptionally strong, rising ⅝ to 174¾.

Trading continued quiet during the late afternoon. Some issues moved toward higher levels with General Motors selling at 505 against 494⅞ at the close yesterday. Studebaker rose from 166½ to 168, while American Smelting held steady around 103½.

The market closed generally dull. American Smelting was the feature selling at 104⅞, a gain of 2⅞ in all and then reacted ½. Marine preferred certificates rose 2 points in the last hour to 73¾. There was a fractional advance in steel common. The rest of the list was stagnant. Government bonds unchanged; others irregular.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Mrs. Lillian M. Heer died on Sunday at the tuberculosis camp aged 38 years. The remains were taken to Brooklyn and interred in the Cypress Hills cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Nathaniel Chase was held from her home, 17 Hurley avenue, this afternoon, the services being conducted by the Rev. Mr. Baragwanath, pastor of the St. James's M. E. Church.

Leah Hoyt, widow of Charles Hoyt, died Wednesday, December 15, at her home in Shady, aged 85 years. She is survived by three children, Mrs. Charles Lane, of Willow, and Agnes and Eugene Hoyt, both of Shady. The funeral was held from the late residence on Sunday at 1 o'clock with interment in Willow cemetery, the Rev. J. O. Wilsey officiating.

Wednesday morning Coroner E. A. Kelly will ship the parts of the mangled body of Wallace J. Hulse of Newburgh that have been recovered to Marlborough for funeral and interment. Hulse was killed at Marlborough and his body was cut up by the train that hit him and distributed all along the track between Marlborough and Kingston. From the parts recovered the dead man's identity was established by his brother, Edward Hulse of Newburgh.

Mrs. Caroline Gabriel, widow of Guiseppe Gabriel, died suddenly Sunday evening at her home, 28 Willow street, aged about 56 years. She had retired as usual that evening with her eight-year-old daughter, Marie, who slept with her. The girl woke up during the night and called to her mother and receiving no reply became frightened and arose and found that her mother was dead. One son also survives. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2:30 from the late residence and at 3 o'clock from St. Mary's Church with interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

Luther M. Morehouse, whose leg was amputated a few days ago, died at 1 o'clock this afternoon at his home, No. 33 Janet street, aged 82 years. Mr. Morehouse was born in Fairfield, Conn., but for 40 years had been a resident of Ulster county. For a number of years he was superintendent of the cement mill at Wilbur and when that business closed retired from active life. For several years past he had been in charge of the Republican Club rooms on Fair street. Mr. Morehouse was a civil war veteran having served in the Fifth Connecticut Volunteers. He was a member of Pratt Post, No. 127, G. A. R. He is survived by his widow and three sons, Eugene, who is a stenographer in the municipal court in New York city, and Daniel and Joseph, who reside on the Albany avenue extension. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

John J. Larkin of Omaha, Nebraska, died at his home there Monday evening at 6 o'clock. Mr. Larkin was formerly of the old village of West Hurley, where he was reared and spent his boyhood days. In 1877 when the country was in a troubled condition over political issues and railroad riots, Mr. Larkin's people moved west to better their condition. They settled in Omaha and there have lived since. Mr. Larkin was a superintendent in the Cudahy packing house and a highly respected citizen. He started his new career with the Cudahy firm and by his industry and faithfulness worked from the bottom to the head of his department. He was 60 years of age and is survived by two younger brothers, Robert, who is general superintendent for the same company, and Thomas F., who is a foreman for the same company, and also connected with the firm of M. Culkin & Company, large gents' furnishers of South Omaha. Michael B. and Patrick R. Carey of this city are first cousins of the deceased.

Esopus Goat Farm Sold.

Daniel B. Deyo as referee in an action in mortgage foreclosure brought by Sherman C. Weed against John H. Browne and Walter Browne sold at the court house at noon today several parcels of land at Union Center, town of Esopus. Hanford S. Weed of New York city bid in the property for $500 for the plaintiff. Included in this property is the land locally known as "the goat farm" on which a local syndicate sought fame and fortune a few years ago by raising Angora goats. Fame they may have attained, but fortune eluded them, as most of the goats died.

Began Stanley's Career.

David Livingstone started on his last great journey into the heart of the Dark Continent in 1865. It was not until November, 1871, that Stanley found him. Stanley's book, "How I Found Livingstone," had a most enormous sale, and his meeting with Livingstone turned Stanley from a newspaper correspondent into the most enthusiastic of African explorers.

Plainly Expressed.

A certain rector in a small English village who was disliked in the parish had a curate who was very popular, and who, on his leaving, was presented with a testimonial. This excited the envy and wrath of the rector and, meeting with an old lady one day, he said: "I am surprised, Mrs. Bloom, that you should have subscribed to this testimonial." "Why, sir," said the old lady, "if you'd been a-going I'd have subscribed double."

Children's First Duty.

It is the duty of children to be obedient to their parents. Of all the creatures we are acquainted with, mankind are the longest, before they become capable of shifting for themselves; and it seems to be the design of Providence in keeping them so many years in a state of dependence upon their parents, to train them up to obedience.—Price.

JAMES SHILLING.

SHILLING BOYS HAVE MADE GREAT NAME ON TURF.

Juarez, Mexico, Dec. 21.—The careers of the Shilling family on the turf have been remarkable. Five boys of the same family have all become well known jockeys. Hugh, the last of the brothers, has just come in to his own on the track here.

James, the eldest of the brothers, made good in the saddle some years ago and is now a trainer and owner. George, the next brother, was killed in a fall from his horse in New Orleans in 1906. C. H. (Cal) Shilling, the third brother, is also an owner and trainer after having served his time in the saddle. Rufus, the fourth brother, is now riding at Juarez, as is Hugh, the last of the five, who won his first race on December 1.

All the boys were born and reared at the Shilling homestead at Paris, Texas.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Dec. 21.—Crafts W. Higgins unsheathed his fluent pen recently and composed an article which jabs, uppercuts and straight-arms some of the existing golfing rules which are inconsistent in the extreme.

The article—"Inconsistencies in the Rules of Golf"—which appeared in the Golfers' Magazine, points out the peculiarity of some of the rules. Higgins aims most of his broadsides at the rules governing the dead and the moving ball, and the article really is an appeal for the amendment of those rules so that common sense may enter the observance of some of the golfing laws.

"What is needed is an international committee to frame a simple and understandable set of rules for the game," declares Higgins.

Higgins's article points out a number of peculiar conditions that arise in golf games at times, and shows how impossible it is for a golfer to observe some of the existing rules when these conditions arise.

The rule Higgins attacks with vigor is this one:

If a ball in motion is stopped or deflected by an agency outside the match the ball must be played from its stopping place.

Here's a Puzzler.

"What should a player do whose ball lands in a baby carriage which is standing still and which contains a baby?" asks Higgins.

A perambulator is considered an "outside agency." The rules specify that the ball must be played from where it lays when the golfer arrives on the scene. But suppose the baby has picked it up and is trying to chew it, as babies sometimes will do? The rules are quite clear—the player must play the ball from where it lies

"But," asks Higgins, "wouldn't the situation be a trifle complicated if the father of the child was acting as the chauffeur for the carriage?"

Higgins asks what should be done if the drive landed in the upturn of the trousers of a spectator who was standing still at the moment the ball landed. The rules state specifically that the ball must be played from the position where it lies.

"How about the spectator?" asks Higgins. "Hasn't he some rights? Couldn't he refuse to permit the playing of the ball from his trouser leg on the ground that the action might be dangerous? Yet the golfer, according to the rules, must play from that place."

"Suppose the ball landed in the rim of a spectator's hat—and the spectator was standing still at the time. What then?" asks Higgins. "The rules state that the golfer must play the ball from where it lies, but the spectator might object slightly to this procedure, especially if the golfer decided upon using one of his iron clubs."

And also let us suppose that the drive lands in an automobile standing by the roadside. Before the golfer arrives on the scene the chariot moves away. The rules state the golfer must play the ball frrom the place where it stopped. But the place has moved. What is the golfer to do? Order back the machine?

Here is another Higgins question—and a humorous Higgins answer:

"One rule states that loose impediments on the putting-green may be lifted, and then goes on to prohibit touching the ground between the ball and the cup. If one wants to remove a half burned match, lying in the path of the ball, how is he to do so without touching the ground? Answer: Borrow a hat pin from some lady and pick the match up with the pin."

"If a lady, when playing, is unfortunate enough to have the ball lodge in a tree, must she shin up the tree trunk or many she have the use of a step ladder to enable her to reach the spot where the ball lodged?" asked Higgins.

In conclusion, the golfing editor, who ranks as one of the real golfing authorities in the country, says:

"Verily, the rules of golf are past comprehension. Many of them are supposed to mean something different from what they state. The beauty of the rules is that it requires one to take a day off to find the rule he wants, and when he does find it the meaning of the rule appears to be different every time he reads it. He is a poor rule expert who cannot give at least two interpretations to almost any knotty problem submitted to him."
